

Army Recovery Company (RCEME) - August 1944

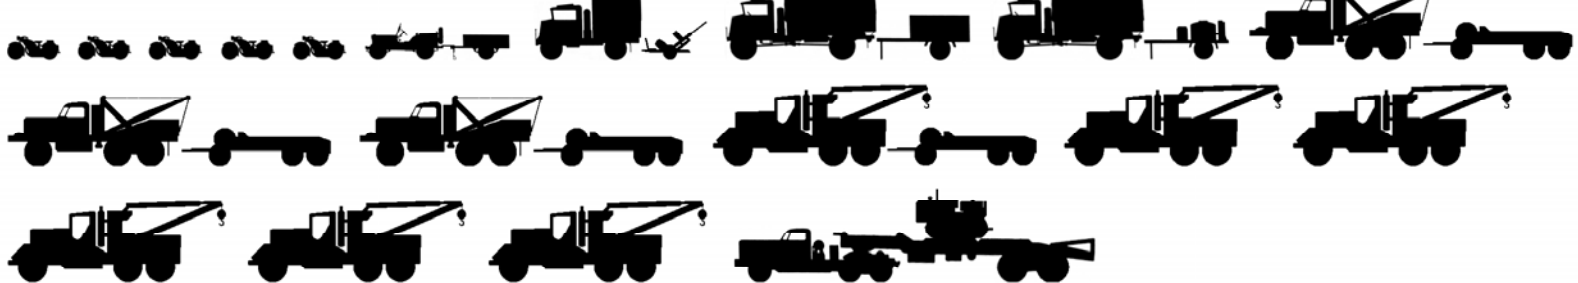

Headquarters

Heavy Recovery Section

Light Recovery Section

Note: the Recovery Company was an Army resource and had a light section for each infantry division and a heavy section for each armoured division and independent armoured brigade under command.

2 Canadian Recovery Company:
First Canadian Army

3 Canadian Recovery Company:
Cdn GHQ & LoC Troops

This ORBAT was taken from WE Cdn III/205/5 dated 15 Aug 1944. RCEME (the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers) was formed in early 1944 from Ordnance Corps mechanics. The unit signs changed from a black square to blue/gold/red during that year. My thanks to Steve Guthrie for the WE.

(C) Barry Beldam 2003